Announcing Marriage of Miss Rock Received Here

Announcement has been received from the marriage of Miss Winifred Rock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Rock, formerly of Rock Island, now of Avon Park, Fla., to Edward G. Todd of Baltimore, Md. The wedding was a quiet home ceremony, being solemnized about noon, Wednesday, Dec. 8, at the home of the bride's parents in Avon Park. Only members of the immediate families and a few friends were present. The bride wore a charming gown of white tulle, with a bride's veil of white, falling to the hem of her gown and arranged in crown effect, adorned with her hair with a wreath of orange blossoms. Baskets of garden flowers and greenery decorated the room. A wedding dinner was served after the ceremony, and in the midst of the merriment, the young couple slipped away, and left by automobile, on an extended wedding trip, the destination of which was not disclosed. They will be home after Jan. 1, at Mr. Todd's home, Forest Lawn, in Avon Park, where Mr. Todd is interested in citrus growing, and where he has extensive citrus groves. Mr. Todd was a captain in the field artillery during the war, and was in service in France for over a year. The bride is well known in Rock Island and has a host of friends here who wish to extend their very best wishes for her happiness. She made her home in Rock Island and attended the public schools here until her graduation from the high school in the class of 1914, when she moved to Avon Park. Since then she has made frequent visits to Rock Island, and for some time, attended Augustana college.

These guests were all old friends of Madam Butler before she went to Berlin and Paris, New York and Chicago, and they found her the same charming friend as of yore—only more so and with added charm. GREEN PLUMES ARE UNUSUAL TRIMMING ON EVENING FROCK

Whether you want to think about it or no, the holiday season is fast approaching. That means dinner parties, dances, receptions, benefits, charity balls and all the rest of the seasonal gaieties which go to make up a proper Thanksgiving and Christmas celebration. New evening gowns are the first consideration for the holiday time and now is the right moment to make your selection before the latest styles are new enough to be interesting.

Here is a dainty dance frock which would make one feel as proud as the proverbial peacock. It is an individual model and is made on charming lines. Green chiffon draped over flesh-colored satin is delightfully soft with green ostrich plumes. The plumes are uncurled and set on in a most original fashion, giving an egg-like shape to the silhouette. There are touches of gold gleaming in the dainty girly and little rosebuds are clustered in the front of the corsage. The fan is made of the same shade of green ostrich, only it is curled.

HAS NOTED ARTIST'S IDEAS OF BEAUTY CHANGED IN 8 YEARS?

Eight years ago Paul Helleu, who had then won fame with his portrayal of beautiful women, came to the United States from France, and after studying American types of beauty, declared that Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, now Mrs. John Barrymore, was "the most beautiful woman in America." And now Mr. Helleu, in America, has chosen Miss Ruby de Remer as his present ideal of American beauty.

Art critics, after a study of the pictures of both women above, declare there are many points in common in the classic features and expression of Mrs. Barrymore and Miss de Remer. Certainly no one disputes the French artist's opinion that they are both beautiful.

CHURCH HAS MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The congregation of the First Swedish Lutheran church held its annual meeting last evening when reports were given by the treasurer of the church and the various societies. During the year the treasury shows total receipts in the amount of $5,483.98 from various sources, through pledges and subscriptions.

Disbursements in the way of salaries and sundry expenses for the church amounted to $2,500. The amount of $1,400 has been paid on indebtedness and $758.50 to the conference and synodical treasurer for home and foreign missions and other purposes. The balance sheet shows assets in the amount of $30,071.77, with liabilities of $2,200, leaving a net worth of $27,871.77.

During the year 1921 the ladies' aid society will endeavor to raise $1,000 and the Lutheran brotherhood has promised to add to this sum the amount of $500.

L. J. Wessel, Alfred Pealstrom and Philip Peterson were elected deacons and O. L. Johnson and L. O. Swanson were elected trustees. Miss Myrtle Wessel and C. L. Swanson were elected as superintendents of the Sunday school. Delegate to the conference meeting is L. O. Swanson and C. E. Johnson, alternate; delegate to the Rock Island district meeting, Miss Caroline Peterson; alternate, Mrs. C. E. Johnson; organist, Miss Caroline Peterson; congregational secretary, Clarke L. Swanson; auditors, Joe Dahlstrom, Emil Johnson and Godfrey Johnson.

The Sunday school will soon take up the question of uniting with the congregation in the regular morning service, short services being held in English preceding the regular service in Swedish.

JANITORS STRIKE JAN. 1

(Chicago, Dec. 14.—(United Press))—Apartment house residents face a cold New Year. Five thousand janitors voted to strike Jan. 1 because landlords refused to raise their wages. Landlords said it would have been necessary to boost rents if an increase was granted.

Reliability

The Quality Jewelry store jealously guards its splendid reputation for reliability. People have come to feel that any article of silver or jewelry bearing the name Josephson on the box is a little better than can be obtained anywhere else.

They are perfectly correct in their belief and especially so where the cost is concerned. It is next thing to a religion with us to sell for less. We buy for less by paying spot cash for the large quantities demanded by our enormous trade and pass the advantage on to our customers.

These facts become quickly apparent to all who come here, which YOU are cordially invited to do.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

It is a strange coincidence that Miss Catherine Flanagan, who was the leader of the women who picked the White House, should be one of the first women to be given one of the privileges resulting from universal suffrage, and that President Wilson should be the man to grant her the privilege.

Miss Flanagan was recently made a notary public. The papers making her a bona fide notary were signed by President Wilson. One of her first acts in her new capacity was that of certifying the vote of Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party, who mailed her first vote for president to her home, Moorestown, N. J. It was a day of triumph for both of these women.

A TALE OF TWO SISTERS.

The Graham sisters—Betty and Alice—of Portland, Ore., well known in Washington suffrage circles, got into suffrage work in an odd way. Betty was studying music in New York when Alice heard a suffrage speech in Portland and became a convert. She immediately proceeded to Washington and got neck deep into the fight. Then, one day when a particularly large demonstration was to be held, she wired Betty as follows:

"Betty, dear, you just have to come down here and get into this suffrage work. We need you."

So Betty, who is quite easy to look at, threw her stage work right out through the wings and hopped a train for Washington. She has been in Washington ever since.

Now that suffrage is won she is going back to the stage. And Alice is to marry a newspaper man.

SOME FACTS ABOUT WOMEN.

In 1867 there were only seven professions open to women, such "professions" as house servant, "taking in sewing." Today there are 471 trades and 14,000,000 women are working for money.

Nowadays there are some 6,000 women physicians, some of them house surgeons, heads of insane asylums and medical examiners of school children.

There are several hundred women dentists, a semi-artistic job, the first dentist to enter the Philippines having been Dr. Anna Sawyer. There are 400 women pharmacists in the United States. In New York city twenty women own and manage drug stores.

Boston, Hamburg and several of the world's greatest observatories are in charge of woman astronomers. The director of the observatory at Rome is a woman. Many of the "weaker sex" have discovered comets, written mathematical treatises, from the Greeks and Egyptians down. Caroline Herschel, Maria Mitchell, Mary Somerville (who died at 91, after having given two children and 70 years mathematical labor to the world), Milne, Klumky, director of the Paris observatory; Mrs. Maunders, connected with the Greenwich observatory; Lady Huggins, Mme. Curie, Mary Fleming of Harvard, and Sophie Kowalevskaya of Russia are a few of the feminine astronomers.

Want State to Change Motto.

Maryland suffragists have turned against the motto on the state coat of arms, a heraldic bit of work done long ago for the Calvert and Crossland families. It reads, "fatti maschi parole femmine," which translated is, "Deeds are masculine, words feminine."

"This is all wrong," says the suffragist leaders, including Mrs. Charles L. Elliott, Mrs. Calvin Gabrielle, Mrs. Charles Ogilvie, Mrs. Emma Weber and others. "It was written by men for men and is un-American."

They suggest a state-wide contest for a substitute.

Some Statistics.

The United States now has 21,025,000 women over 21 years of age, according to recent census statistics. Of this number 25,500,000 were eligible to vote in November. About 1,000,000 of the 5,250,000 foreign born women in the country are not yet naturalized, besides an additional 1,500,000 Indian, Japanese and Chinese women who were not eligible. This last figure dates back to a census report of 1910. Out of 24,807,000 men over 21 in the United States it is estimated that 31,500,000 were eligible for the November election.

Out for High Office.

At the Democratic state convention held in Lansing, Mich., Miss Katherine Doran of Detroit was nominated for secretary of state by unanimous vote. Miss Doran was the only woman nominated.

Knows Frog Language.

Mile Phasalic, head of the pathological laboratory of the Colonial Museum of National History in Paris, claims that during her many years of research she has been able to learn the language of frogs, beetles and other creatures.
